Project Title: Social Networking System for Job Placement

Project Description:

In this project ,it would be a social network that enables people to communicate with each other and thus find suitable opportunities .The platform would allow recruiters to post a job opening along with its description and other details. The system would require the following functionalities to work optimally:

- A registration window where a person can join the network
- An option of responding to posts so people can share their opinion through comments or other methods.
- An option to post images
- The admin would be responsible for allowing a person to start an account on the platform.
- A chatting system so one user can talk with another.
